

[Scan or retype this letter. Adapt it to your school's needs. Copy the Project Flyer onto the other side, have the student leader sign it, and give one to every teacher on campus when you visit them to request their help.]

Dear Teacher,

Would you give just one dollar to save a life? Most of us would. Even more important, will you help us students show ourselves that we can save lives as well, while making a better world?

One Dollar For Life invites students to donate just one dollar. It then uses that money to build schools, computer labs, and other projects in the developing world. The result is bigger people here and a better world "out there."

In just nine years, ODFL has built 79 such projects, in Kenya, Nicaragua, Malawi, Yucatan, Haiti, Nepal, South Africa, Myanmar and Indonesia. Every dollar a student donates goes into the project.

What we students learn from this is that we CAN be connected to our world; we CAN be compassionate; we CAN work cooperatively; and we CAN be effective. If we can instill these beliefs in America's teenagers, we WILL change the world.

Please help us. During the upcoming drive, please encourage every student to give just one dollar. There's no pressure and no competition. Just this dare: are we willing to believe teenagers can make the world a better place? If we are, then it will be.

Thank you for your support. Yours in a Better World,

<student leader's name here>